Tucker named VP of Power Supply

WINCHESTER, Ky.— Julie Tucker has been named Vice President of Power Supply of East Kentucky Power Cooperative.

In that role, she oversees EKPC’s power supply and planning efforts, including load forecasting, generation portfolio planning, overseeing the PJM Market Operations Center, energy and capacity hedging, fuel forecasting, fuel hedging and purchasing, corporate sustainability plan, related risk management functions, and demand side management.

“I am honored to get the opportunity to lead EKPC’s Power Supply group,” Tucker said. “I’ve been with EKPC for a long time, I love the cooperative, I love the people and I love the work we do to provide service to our owner-members.”
